

James Randi

“BEWARE: Skeptic on the Loose!”

The world's most amazing investigator and demystifier of paranormal and pseudoscientific claims is our honored guest for this 20th anniversary meeting of the National Capital Area Skeptics.

James Randi has pursued "psychics", exposed the dirty tricks of faith healers, investigated homeopathic water "with a memory," and generally been a thorn in the sides of those who try to pull the wool over the public's eyes in the name of the supernatural.

He has received numerous awards and recognitions, including a Fellowship from the John D. and Catherine T. MacArthur Foundation in 1986.

In 1996, the James Randi Education Foundation was established to further Randi's work. Randi's long-standing challenge to psychics now stands as a $1,000,000 prize administered by the Foundation. It remains unclaimed.

In addition to remarks by Randi, NCAS co-founder Jamy Ian Swiss will host a conversation with Randi featuring video clips from Randi's personal archives.

Afterwards, NCAS members and non-members are invited to participate in an open discussion focused on the future of NCAS and how best to accomplish our mission of promoting critical thinking and scientific understanding.

NCAS is a 501(c)3 not-for-profit organization which promotes critical thinking and scientific understanding.

NCAS...for good reason

Before the main event, join Randi and NCAS for an Amazing Brunch

at Jackie's Restaurant in Silver Spring, Maryland.

This fund-raising event is a great opportunity to meet James Randi and further celebrate NCAS's 20 years as the voice of skepticism and scientific reasoning in the nation's capital area.

Jackie's Restaurant is known for upscale comfort food that emphasizes organic produce and free range meats from local purveyors and farms. It has been on the Washingtonian's 100 Very Best list for 2006 and 2007.

James Randi is known for ... well, you already know.
